This contest at 10 a. m., will feature events for control line stunt and standard speed models, free flight models and tow line and hand launched glider models. A special "Beauty" event will also be held and each of these models will be required to complete an official flight.

All members of the clubs in the federation, namely Perkasie Flying Hornets, Hatboro Aeromodeleers, Bristol Aeromodeleers, Glenside Air Scouts and Quakertown Aero Jockeys will compete.

It is believed that there will be some 75 model contestants competing. Considerable free flight activity is also expected, but due to the small size of the flying area all contestants will have to be careful not to allow engines in their models to run to long so as to avoid losing their models.

Refreshments will be available. All interested are invited. No admission will be charged as this a affair is sponsored with the sole purpose of promoting the hobby.

Borough Council Discusse Parking Problems Near Bus Terminal with PTC

By Staff Reporter LANGHORNE, Sept. 5 - Th Langhorne Borough Council, las evening, unanimously passed a mocurbs along the State Highway route through the borough, which has not been already contracted for by the landowners. These side walks and curbs are required by borough ordinance, after the coun Cap. John Matuza and members of cil had been informed severa way dept. would enlarge the route if these improvements were made Sidewalks and curbs installed by the borough will be payed for through liens on the individua property. Earlier in the meeting, two of ficials of the P. T. C. company ac companied by Sgt. McCarr of the Langhorne State Police barracks, Upper Makefield Has who introduced them to the council. 17 Auxiliary Police presented a parking problem for the council's consideration.

Mr. Fones, superintendent of the P. T. C. depot serving this area, stated that the operators complained of cars parking in the bus zone on Pine st. east of Maple. He added, traditional autumn meeting of "We want to get along with you. We have come here tonight to find out what you want done so that we can tell our operators."

The council informed Fones that Continued on Page Six

JET AGE ACHIEVEMENT

There was a time, only a few ears ago, when Americans learned with amazement that they could breakfast in New York and They'll never build planes faster mon, "Be Silent and Speak." han that," was a typical reaction. But that was before the jet engine.

A British Canberra jet bomber preakfast and teatime, in eigh airborne hours. Average speed was 500 miles an hour.

'The westward crossing was made in four hours and 33 minutes, the trip home in a mere three hours and 25 minutes.

The pilot, Ronald P. Beaumont, in another Canberra bomber, last year set an east-west transatlantic record of four hours, 18. minutes. On his round-trip flight he cracked the west-east record, thereby establishing the Canberra beyond dispute as the world's fastest bomber.

The jet engine and the atomic bomb, in combination, appear to be opening the way to a new era in warfare. In this era air speed is vital both for offense and defense The superlative performance of the Canberra is a challenge to American aviation. Involved is no mere matter of national pride, but a practical question. Why have the British, with limited resources financial and scientific, been able to accomplish more than this country despite the fact the U.S. government has poured billions into aircraft development?

Of many things this country makes the best, the strongest, the most dependable. In many categories American products are beter than similar products made elsewhere. A major exception is in ighting aircraft speed, in which this country has long been inferior o the British. Certainly an effort should be made to ascertain why this is so.

A punster says civilization becan to fade when men quit tucking apkins under their chins. To say othing about what happened to hirt fronts.

It is recalled that this country went wild over Sweden's Jenny Lind, who could sing, when she ame to these shores, unaccompanied by pistol-festooned bodyguards.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions-

SOUTHERNERS often confine their cooking to the top of the stove when the day is hot. It's a cool way to a hearty meal wherever you live. This top-of-the-stove meat loaf, recommended by the A & P Service for Homemakers, is an economical and easy star dish for the dinner table. For four servings, mix one-half cup of tomato juice and one-half cup of fine, dry bread crumbs. Let stand five minutes. Then add one heavy kettle. Slip a low rack under loaf and add three-fourths cup of water. Place four large, peeled potatoes around the loaf and sprinkle with one teaspoon of salt. Cover and cook over low heat about one hour. Add more water if needed.

Banana ice cream, made in your refrigerator tray, makes a cooling, delicious dessert for your menu. For four generous servings, set refrigerator for fast freezing. Pour one 141/2-ounce can of evaporated milk into refrigerator tray and freeze until mushy. Turn into chilled bowl and whip until stiff. Add one teaspoon of vanilla, onefourth cup of light corn syrup and one-half cup of confectioners' sugar. Blend. Fold in one ripe banana, mashed. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze until almost firm. Return to chilled bowl and whip until stiff. Return to refrigerator tray and freeze until firm. Set control back to normal to store until ready

There was a time, only a few ears ago, when Americans learned with amazement that they could breakfast in New York and dine in London, if they so desired. They'll never build planes faster han that," was a typical reaction. But that was before the jet engine.

'The westward crossing was made in four hours and 33 minutes, the trip home in a mere three hours and 25 minutes.

The pilot, Ronald P. Beaumont, in another Canberra bomber, last year set an east-west transatlantic record of four hours, 18. minutes. On his round-trip flight he cracked the west-east record, thereby establishing the Canberra beyond dispute as the world's fastest bomber.

The jet engine and the atomic bomb, in combination, appear to be opening the way to a new era in warfare. In this era air speed is vital both for offense and defense.

The superlative performance of the Canberra is a challenge to American aviation. Involved is no mere matter of national pride, but a practical question. Why have the British, with limited resources. financial and scientific, been able to accomplish more than this country despite the fact the U.S. government has poured billions into aircraft development?

Of many things this country makes the best, the strongest, the most dependable. In many categories American products are better than similar products made elsewhere. A major exception is in fighting aircraft speed, in which this country has long been inferior to the British. Certainly an effort should be made to ascertain why this is so.

A punster says civilization began to fade when men quit tucking napkins under their chins. To say nothing about what happened to shirt fronts.

It is recalled that this country went wild over Sweden's Jenny Lind, who could sing, when she came to these shores, unaccompanied by pistol-festooned body-

'Harvest Prayer That All Men May Worship God" May God have pity on us and bless us; may he let his face shine upon us. So may your way be known upon earth; among all nations, your salvation.

May the peoples praise you, O God; may all the peoples praise you!

May the nations be glad and exult because you rule the people in equity; the nations on the earth you guide. May the peoples praise you, O

May all the peoples praise you!

The earth has yielded its fruits; God, our God, has blessed us. May God bless us, and may all the ends of the earth fear

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By Offic Hobbs (Pinch Hitting for Joe Elberson)

I have been fishing the inlets at Point Pleasant and Shark River the past couple of weeks, but caught no fish other than snapping blues. I saw something that was very interesting though.

They are doing a lot of underwater goggle fishing in these inlets and they spear a lot of fish. There were three young lads about 20 years old at Shark River Inlet, and they had three nice strings of fish.

They wade out into the swift water and swim with their face down under the water until they spot the fish. Then they dive under and spear the fish. They wear masks with a respirator fastened to it, frogtype flappers on their feet and carry a gun that has spring traction ning which shoots an arrow at close range. They also wear a knife fastened. ots an arrow at close range. They also wear a knife fastened to their belt which is used in case they run into sharks who would like to put up a fight. When these boys go under water you think they are never coming up again as they stay under for so long. They go out into the rough water where I wouldn't even go with a boat.

I had quite a talk with the boys and they sometimes get into some bad spots; like whirling water around the rock jetties. Sometimes they misjudge and can't get back to the rocks, so they go out with the water until they hit slack water on the outside of the jetty and then they can swim back; however this doesn't happen too often. Their complete outfit cost about forty dollars.

This is one type of fishing I don't believe I'll have anything to do

The canal is now giving some good sport for the sun fish fishermen, I was talking to Elwood Smith, one of Edgely's fishermen. He tells me he is having a barrel of fun with a fly rod and a little black fly. The sun fish run about six to seven inches long, and he picks up a bass now and then.

Pishing for sunfish in still water is one of the best sports there is. They hit as hard and fight as much as any fish their size. They are also about the best eating pan fish gotten out of fresh water. In the evening is the best time to fish for them when the flies start to fly around, you will have a lot of strikes and lose them if you don't set the hook fast.

You may catch more than you want, so be careful when taking them off the hook so you don't hurt them. I have seen some fishermen rip their gills and throw them on the banks. This fish will lay there and die. It is my theory a dead fish is no good to anyone and the sport is done when the fish is dead.

Another good sport with a fly rod is catching snapping blues. Righ now the bays are full of these game little fish. With light tackle yo can have a lot of fun catching these fish and they're good eating to You need a light line and a small long shank hook that will hold a spe ring. Sperring is a small fish that is used for bait, and you can get the at any bait store around the bay.

Flounder fishing has just about reached its peak. They are sti catching a lot of big ones. The bay is also full of sea bass.

The surf is still slow with a few kings and a stray blue now and the have fished the surf for the last two weeks from Barnegat to Point Pleasant and have only had two strikes and a lot of hard work.

Here is some good news for the duck hunters. The duck season starts October 20th and ends December 13th with brant season opening October 20th and ending November 3rd. The daily bag on ducks remains at four a day and possession, eight; of these not more than one may be a wood duck. Twenty-five mergansers may be killed in one day, ten coot, three brant and three geese.

New this year is a regulation that sanctions shooting from boots with motors attached providing such craft is fastened with in or tled up immediately along side of any stationary hunting blind. Shot guns must be plugged so it is impossible to insert more than three shells and these plugs must be of a type that cannot be removed without disassembling the gun.

ofing hours will be one-half hour before sunrise to sunset except where these hours conflict with state laws as in Pennsylvania.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association will be held Tuesday, September 9th at the American Legion Home at eight o'clock.
